Wm. J. Burns Honored By Oddfellows and Re- bekah Lodges Tuesday

Long Record Community Service Brings Widespread Expressions of Appreciation

On Tuesday evening the Oddfellows and Rebekah lodges honored William J. Burns by presenting him with a fine club bag, prior to his leaving to live in Edmonton, where he will take up work as an engineer with one of the commercial plants in the city.

The presentation was made as an expression of goodwill and appreciation for his activities in the lodge covering many years, and many personal tributes of esteem were expressed.

In fraternal societies he took a keen interest, having been master or holding other offices in the Masonic and Orange lodges. For several years he served as mayor, and almost without any let-up he served in one capacity or another on local municipal bodies. He served Coleman well, and will leave with the hearty good wishes of the public at large.

For many years he was engineer at McGillivray Co. power plant,

Will Broadcast Arrival of Governor-General

The arrival of the new governor-general, the Earl of Bessborough, and his welcome to the Dominion will be broadcast direct from the pier at Hailfax to all corners of Canada, according to arrangements which have been made by E. A. Weir, director of radio for the Canadian National System. The vice-regal party will arrive in port at 10 a. m., April 4th, and will be met by the prime minister and secretary of state. They will come ashore at 11 o'clock and there will be a duration of about half an hour's reception on the pier, when the inspection of the guard of honor and other formalities will be broadcast. The swearing in ceremony will be broadcast from the Legislative building at noon. The whole historic event will be carried into all the provinces by a network of Canadian National Telephones with Canadian National and associated stations linked up from sea to sea.

United Church Notes

Evening service: Special music by the choir; string quartette from Michel; Easter message.

during the past two years has been engineer at the East Kootenay power plant at Crow's Nest Lake. He gave generously of his time without any reward save that of the appreciation of his fellow citizens.

His energy and continued efforts on behalf of the public welfare of Coleman is well worthy of record, and The Journal joins in the general expression of goodwill. He served his community well, and the general feeling is may the very best of good luck and fortune attend him.

Governor General's Arrival

Precedent demanding that Lord Bessborough shall become "His Excellency the Governor-General and Commander in Chief" at Hailfax, where he will be sworn at the historic Province Building, Captain M. Sibbons, R.N.R., commander of the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of Bedford will divert his vessel from her regular course and call at the Nova Scotian capital to land the vice-regal passenger Easter Saturday. The lay-out shows Lord Bessborough; Lady Bessborough, the former Roberte de Neufville, only French born peeress of Great Britain; Captain Sibbons, one of the most popular captains on the Atlantic and the Duchess of Bedford, 20,000 ton liner—largest Canadian vessel to call at Hailfax.

OUR QUESTION BOX

Last week's question was "What crocodiles are considered the worst man-eaters in the world?" The answer is—Those inhabiting the mouth of the Hoogly River, below Calcutta.

Answers were received from Eileen Richards, Charlie Roughed, Betty Garner and Freda Antrobus. Those of Freda Antrobus and Betty Garner were the nearest to the correct answer. Freda says "Species found in India and Africa are considered the man eating of the world."

Betty says "The crocodiles considered the worst man eaters in the world are species in India and Africa."

Eileen Richards says the worst man eaters are in Northern Queensland, and are a huge sea-going variety, while Charlie Roughed says "the man eating species are found to a great extent in Africa, India, Cuba and South America." Charlie covered considerable territory, but the question was to find where the worst man eaters lived. Three of the answers were so near correct that it is difficult to make a distinction, therefore the first nearest correct received at The Journal office has been credited with a year's subscription, viz., Betty Garner.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Radio Licenses

It is important to remember that all licenses expire on March 31, and same are payable forthwith to Corporal Weaver, R. C. M. P., Blaimore. The amount is $1 00. The maximum penalty for not paying the license is $50.

Some days are blue; everyone you encounter has a tale of woe and sees nothing but blue ruin. Meet them on a brighter day and they are just the opposite. Its all in the state of mind. Likewise, when you hear a fellow grumbling about the town he's living in, remember the old saying—"It isn't your town; it's YOU!"

Davie McLeod Passed Away on Sunday

Made Brave Fight Against Inevitable—Death Claimed Him After Prolonged Illness

After several months illness, David McDonald McLeod, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hurdman McLeod, died on Sunday afternoon at 2.30. He had been unconscious for several hours and passed peacefully away. He was 17 years of age.

When his condition became hopeless, his father, who has been in Winnipeg for some time, was advised, and he left on the air mail plane on Friday evening, reaching Lethbridge about 2.15 a. m. Saturday, where he was met by Dr. Lillie, who conveyed him in his car to Coleman, reaching here at 5.30 a. m., completing the trip in ten hours.

Davie was a general favorite and the flag at the school was flown at half mast the day of the funeral.

The service was held at the home, the Rev. A. E. Larke of St. Paul's United church officiating. A duet was sung by Mr. and Mrs. Larke—"Sometime We'll Understand," and his address was very appropriate. A large number of people gathered in the vicinity of the home during the service, and followed to the cemetery. Many beautiful floral tributes were sent by friends of the family from near and far, requiring several autos to carry them to the cemetery. Six of his old school chums were pall bearers.

Many messages of condolence were received by the family, who have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

Tennis Club Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Coleman Tennis Club will be held on Monday, April 6th, at 8 p. m., in the Council Chambers. All members and others interested in tennis requested to attend.

Arrived From Saskatoon

Elliott Cameron arrived this week from Saskatoon, with his wife and two children, to work on the Star Creek for ranch. He had originally from Prince Edward Island, the home of the silver fox industry. The beautiful old town of Summerside was his home. Wilbur Cox, who for two years worked at Star Creek, plans on making a change. Under the guidance of Mr. Beck, the ranch continues to make steady progress, and some very fine foxes have been reared there.

Scots Spend Very Pleasant Evening in Song and Story Friday Evening

Historic Places in Scotland Shown in Illustrated Lecture to Caledonian Society

"Scotland in Song and Story" by the Caledonian Society last Friday proved very interesting. The lantern slides showed many familiar spots which were well known to those who came from Scotland, and at intervals songs were sung by the following: Mrs. Gillespie, "Success to Bonnie Scotland," Mrs. Ramsey, "Loch Lomond," Archie McCulloch, "Ma Grannie's Hielan' Hame," Mr. Glover of Hillcrest, song: Rev. A. E. Larke, "Star of Rabbin Burns" and "My Ain Folk," Peter Smith, "Walla O' Weary and 'Sailin' Down the Clyde," Miss Yuill read Burns' poem, "To a Daisy," and Mrs. R. Holmes recited part of the poem, "The Cotter's Saturday Night." Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie also sang as a duet "Ye Banks and Braes o' Bonnie Doon."

The serving of refreshments brought a very enjoyable evening to a close at about 11 p. m.

No Natural Animal Life in Bermuda

Passengers arriving on St. Patrick's Day, at Hamilton, capital of Bermuda, were greeted with the fact that Ireland is not the only island in the world which is snakeless. The British colony of Bermuda harbours not a single snake. More than that there are no reptiles of any kind on the island. Even further, there is no natural animal life of any kind save human beings and the domestic animals which they have raised in their tropical paradise. Curiously, too, there is no natural bird life. Not even seagulls, it is claimed, are ever sighted around this group of coral islands.

Why France Is Economically Strong

Trying to ferret out the reason why France, of all the major nations, has no unemployment, but rather is importing 3,000,000 aliens to work in her fields, mines and factories, "Yeoman Tilden writes in the World's Work on "Why France is the Top-Dog."

All the chimneys of French factories are smoking. Portuguese workers have been imported in droves to supply the shortage of labor. Italians armed with picks and shovels follow Napoleon's trail over the Alps, in reverse order. Three hundred thousand Poles were given jobs last year. There are no doles, no Communists, no bread lines.

The findings are something as follows: Frenchmen are born marketers. They waste nothing. They know how to stretch French paper to make the two ends meet. Nothing is wasted.

Nor does this mean they have poor food. They furnish the chefs of the world. They do not dress shabbily. They dress the world. But they dress themselves first.

They buy for cash. They pay down in full for real estate. Not many know what call money is. Money is on printed pages only. High-powered salesmen are an American institution. French cars seldom wear out carrying heavy mortgages abroad. Every large business concern has its economist. Employees get good meals at cost. The economists purchase at wholesale prices. Railway employees even get their coal and household supplies for a third what others pay outside of the economist. Companies do not exploit or commercialize their help.

The Frenchman hardly knows what a robot is. Almost everything is hand made. A country that is many times smaller than any one of our Western Provinces supports its millions by managing its individual affairs well. Thus the under-dog has become top-dog.

Is there not in the French situation as thus disclosed a suggestion of value worthy of the thoughtful consideration of the producers and workers of other countries?

Here in America, in Canada as well as in the United States, every encouragement, indeed the most striking inducements, are held out to people in all walks of life to buy on the instalment plan, rather than for cash. The use of credit has become almost universal, not only for capital expenditures which is justifiable and proper, if the borrowings are kept within reason, and the capital expenditures to which they are devoted are of a revenue-producing character, but for current expenses. People are urged to buy not only necessities but luxuries on the credit plan, with payments spread over a term of months, or even years. The argument advanced is frequently to enjoy these luxuries now and while you are paying for them, rather than to wait until you have saved sufficiently to pay for them outright. It is a fallacious argument, a fatal mistake to make.

Complaints are fairly general that the banks will not extend credit at the present time. Possibly, however, the mistake by the banks in the past is that they extended too much credit too easily, coupled with the further mistake that they demand too high a rate of interest and thus make it next to impossible for the borrower to ever get out of debt once he is landed in that position. Many a man, both city residents and farmers, have told the writer that having got into debt to the banks or mortgage companies they had a long uphill struggle to get out. They found themselves working for these financial corporations to meet interest charges rather than for themselves. They vowed that once they got out of debt, they would never get in again, but rather would do without things until they could pay for them outright, lighten their belt if necessary, and carry on in the meantime.

It is the man who is carrying a load of debt, paying heavy interest charges annually, possibly on no-revenue producing expenditures made in the past, who finds himself in real difficulty in times of business depression. Any little cash he can get must be paid out again to keep himself solvent instead of being available to carry him along until the tide turns again. But the man who has followed the policy of "pay as you go," who is free of debt, is the man who can most easily weather the storm. Such a man can "carry on," but the man already heavily in debt finds himself in the predicament of going in still deeper, and the final result is, all too frequently, that he finds himself in an impossible position, so deep in fact that he can never get out.

Is the French way not the better way? Does it not make for greater contentment, a more consistent measure of good times, a more enjoyable, happier existence?

Alberta Fur Farming

Three Hundred and Forty Individuals and Companies Operating Fur Farms in the Province

According to the annual report of Benjamin Lawton, Alberta game commissioner, some 340 persons or companies were operating fur farms within the province in 1930. On these farms were the following animals: Muskrats, 45,510; silver foxes, 13,527; mink, 1,600; cross foxes, 785; red cross foxes, 279; blue foxes, 455; rabbits, 409; badgers, 152; beavers, 112; caracul sheep, 169; and smaller numbers of fisher, marten, raccoon, skunk, fish, coyote and lynx.

Miss Theresa M. Ravary, Gallatin, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled, for almost a year, with my heart and nerves, especially on retiring at night when I would be unable to sleep for hours. A friend recommended Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and after taking them for a few weeks I could get a good night's rest, and rapidly regained my former state of health."

End Of Communism

McGill Economist Sees Soviet Despotism Felled By Human Nature

"Russia is going to break, Communism will prove unavailing, the five-year-plan is doomed to failure, and the greatest despotism and tyranny that the world has ever seen will be felled by human nature," declared Dr. Stephen Leacock, head of the department of political economy of McGill University, addressing the junior board of trade of Montreal recently on Communism.

The professor issued a warning that police batons were not the correct means of destroying Communism in Canada. "The needs of the people which lead them to seek after anything new must be satisfied as the first and only step required to do away with this evil," he said, referring to Communism in this country.

What was going to happen to Canada and other parts of the western world before Russia's five-year-plan failed, Dr. Leacock asked. "Are we going to sit back and condemn Communism and do nothing to cure the evils of present-day civilization? Are we to permit Russia to set us and the rest of the world an example in energy and determination in the exploitation of their country?"

Military Medal Law Revised

Holders Of V.C. Cannot Be Automatically Deprived Of Decoration

Holders of the celebrated Victoria Cross, highest award for gallantry in Britain's army, will not, in the future, be automatically deprived of the medal if convicted of "treason, cowardice, felony or any other infamous crime," as has been the case in the past.

This important change is one of the new provisions governing military medals announced in the London Gazette. It is stipulated, however, that the award of the V.C. may be cancelled by the King, who may also restore the decoration, if and when the recommendation for annulment is withdrawn.

At all good drug stores.

A Dangerous Weapon

Germany Is Replacing Beer Steins With Paper Cups

Beer mugs always have been dangerous weapons in Germany. But no longer will political gatherings break up with the air filled with flying beer mugs. The Berlin police have issued an order that when politicians get together there shall be no stein on the table, but paper cups instead.

This is going to remove a good deal of the dramatic from Berlin café gatherings. But it should bring relief to overworked hospitals, which usually have a number of injured to patch up after a Fascist or a Communist meeting. No much of a death in the human anatomy can be made with a paper cup.

Scotland Boosting Aviation

Dundee, Scotland, recently held an informal justification over the first business transaction carried out there by aeroplane. A business man had flown from Glasgow, landed in a field near Dundee, completed his deal and within an hour was on his way back by air. As a result of the visit, Dundee is joining the movement to provide an airport for every city in Scotland.

The worms that infest children from their birth are of two kinds, those that find lodgment in the stomach and those that are found in the intestines. The latter are the most destructive, as they cling to the walls of the intestines and if not interfered with work havoc there. Miller's Worm Powders dislodge both kinds and while expelling them from the system serve to repair the damage they have caused.

A lady much above the usual size was trying to enter a street car. A passenger, who was waiting to get off, began to laugh at her futile efforts.

The passenger retorted, "Madam, if you were half a lady, you wouldn't need any help."

New Canadian Destroyers

Two New Vessels To Be Added To Canadian Navy

Delivery of the first of Canada's new destroyers, H.M.C.S. Saguenay, will be made to this country very shortly. A number of tests have still to be made, but it is expected that a Canadian crew will be put on board the warship soon, and she will formally pass into the hands of the naval service of this country.

For the most part the ship's company is already in England. From time to time in the past few months Canadian bluejackets have proceeded to the United Kingdom on courses of instruction in the Royal Navy, nearly 200 officers and ratings are thus ready to take over the new destroyers as soon as they are delivered from Thornycroft's.

The second vessel, H.M.C.S. Skeena, will be turned over about May 20.

The new destroyers are the last word in construction of that type of vessel, incorporating many new features that have been developed since the war. Specifications called for a speed of 35 knots, but in her trials "Saguenay" has exceeded that. Both are equipped with turbine engines. Their armament comprises four 4.7 guns and two 4-tube torpedoes. About 100 officers and ratings constitute the ship's companies.

California Protects Its Fruit Industry

May Prohibit Banana Imports So People Will Eat Home Grown Fruit

The State Legislature of California is seriously considering the prohibition of the import of bananas. For why? Not because the banana is grown in California and so the import of the foreign-grown banana would interfere with the home-grown product. The argument for prohibiting the importation of bananas is in the logic of the protectionist. The eating of bananas as the protectionists of California see it, means less eating of peaches and other fruit grown there. So the eaters of bananas have to curb their animal appetites when it comes to their favorite fruit. To make it all the easier for them to do this there are to be no more bananas in California if the legislators of California are to have their way.—Lethbridge Herald.

Big Business In Farm Machinery

Nearly 100,000 Tractors Sold In Western Canada In Past Twelve Years

Nearly 100,000 tractors have been sold in Western Canada in the past twelve years, and of this total, more than half went to farmers in Saskatchewan, according to the latest estimates. In three years more than 5,000 threshers have been sold in Saskatchewan, half the total for all Western Canada. In the past five years, Saskatchewan farmers have purchased 6,000 combines and the total for the West in that period was 9,000. Out of the 2,046 threshers sold in the west in 1930, 826 were bought in Saskatchewan.

First-Aid and Home Nursing Useful Subjects, Says Colonel Hodgkiss

First aid and home nursing should be made subjects in public schools, declared Col. C. A. Hodgkiss, director-general of the St. John Ambulance Association, at the annual meeting of the organization in Ottawa. This type of training would, he said, be more useful than "some of the twaddle" now being taught.

The year 1930 was described as surpassing all other years in the history of the association. In the various courses, 23,386 persons took part and proficiency certificates were awarded in 12,855 cases. Certificates and awards had a grand total of 19,748. The annual report was presented by Hon. J. H. King, president.

Rubber Wheels For Dining Cars

The possibility of rubber dining car wheels is being studied in France by representatives of the principal French roads. Experiments are being conducted on a branch line to St. Florent. Gasoline-driven engines with rubber tires have been operating for several months, and experts believe that their adoption for passenger cars also will lessen noise, shocks, and deterioration of the rails.

A Hazardous Calling

Many Movie Actors Lose Lives In Making Pictures

Packing thrills and realism into the movies is fraught with deaths and accidents often as tragic and thrilling as the scenes depicted. During the last five years, fifty-five actors, extras and studio workmen have lost their lives in making pictures, and scores of others received permanent or temporary injuries in the effort to provide "hair-raising" for movie fans. In addition, the California state industrial accident commission paid out $421,850 to members of the motion-picture industry for deaths and accidents arising in the course of employment.

Giant X-Ray Tube

Will Be Used In The Treatment Of Cancer Patients

A giant X-ray tube, developing 500,000 volts, has been developed at the California Institute of Technology, for treating patients suffering from cancer, a formal statement issued by the Institute announced. The statement said that "As Dr. Robert A. Milliken has previously stated, the Institute does not profess to have discovered a new cure for cancer; the principal hope is, that if results are favorable, other tubes of similar type will be placed in operation in hospitals in other sections of the United States."

DIVERGENT VIEWS EXPRESSED IN COMMONS DEBATE

Ottawa, Ont.—Political leaders in Quebec Federal politics swung into action in the House of Commons. In continued debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, Hon. Arthur Sauve, postmaster-general, and Hon. Ernest Lapointe, former minister of justice, expressed divergent views.

Mr. Sauve spoke first. It was his initial speech in the House of Commons, and his reception, especially when he spoke at some length in English, was hearty. He defended the government, reviewed what had been done to aid the unemployed and assist the farmer, and asked for co-operation of all parties to make the coming economic conference a success. He also remarked that, in denouncing the action of the government in respect to Russia, the leader of the opposition was actually denouncing the Quebec government.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, veteran of 24 years in parliament, found in the last Imperial Conference, ample reason for criticism of the government. Mr. Lapointe, who has himself represented Canada at Imperial Conferences, censured Premier R. B. Bennett for the mercenary spirit which he claimed had animated him in his negotiations.

"The British Commonwealth is an idea; it is a soul," asserted Mr. Lapointe. "To have it usually a temporary foundation is to court disaster. The tie of sentiment is thin, but it is strong. It may seem weak, it may be invisible to those who cannot see anything outside a ledger, but this tie has proven equal to the test to which it has always been put in periods of trouble and difficulty."

Mr. Lapointe had criticism for Mr. Bennett in the ground of interference in British domestic policy.

"To force protection upon Britain, as the prime minister of Canada tried to do, was not only beating the Empire on an economic falacy, but it was interfering in the most direct way with the domestic policy of the United Kingdom," charged the former minister of justice.

Miss Agnes MacPhail, Progressive member for Southeast Grey, and the only woman member of the House of Commons, followed Mr. Lapointe.

In his speech, Mr. Sauve had made direct reference to Miss MacPhail. He said that the arguments advanced by her in speeches had "been of such a subtle character as to induce me to excuse her for the stand she has taken toward resistance by the province of Quebec to the granting of the franchise to women."

"In fact," added Mr. Sauve, "I am coming more and more to an acceptance of the idea of the granting of this franchise."

Disorders In India

Cawnpore Troops Shoot Down 30 Rioting Nationalists

Karachi, India.—Tumult broke out again in India as Mahatma Gandhi, here for the Nationalist congress meeting, was jeered by Communists, and troops at Cawnpore shot down at least 30 rioting Nationalists.

The disorders grew out of the execution last week of three Indians convicted of the murder of a 21-year-old police official in 1928. Gandhi was taken off a train 12 miles outside of the town, but the thousands gathered here for the congress meeting spotted him as he rode into town in an automobile.

A group of 30 or more, known to be of Communist leaning, made for him with jeers and one even made as though to attack the frail little man with a flag staff. Some carried a tray with a gruesome mess of mud and blood.

"Here is the blood of our brothers who were murdered," they cried, referring to the three executed Indians. "Take it back with your truce to Delhi."

Gandhi's men drove off the assassins, and there were cheers for Mahatma.

The day at Cawnpore was even more serious. Rioting began during the night when Moslem shopkeepers refused to close their stores under a general strike order by the congress men. Troops came out when the fighting got serious, and before the worst was over, 30 had been killed, and at least 100 injured.

This trouble too, grew out of the executions.

Must Serve Sentence

Sixteen-Year-Old Farm Boy Fails In Appeal To Higher Court

Toronto, Ont.—Robert Kitowski, 16-year-old farm boy, must serve his sentence of five years at the Stony Mountain penitentiary and receive 20 lashes as imposed by Magistrate Cruickshank for the holding-up and robbing of the Dominion Bank at Port Frances, on February 11 last. This was the decision of the First Appellate Court of Ontario, at Oshawa, Ont., Toronto, following an earnest plea for "a more humane punishment" from A. A. MacDonald, counsel for the young prisoner.

Youthfulness of the prisoner which brought forth a "popular clamor" following the sentence, did not appeal to the first divisional court, the chief justice, Sir William Mulock, declared in announcing their judgment.

To Dispose Of Wheat

Senator Borah Would Donate Surplus Wheat In United States To China

Washington, D.C.—Old suggestion that the surplus wheat held by the National Grain Stabilization Corporation, amounting to over 200,000,000 bushels, should be turned over to China, was made by Senator William E. Borah.

Such action would require an act of congress. Wheat held by the corporation has been bought and paid for, and the policy of the Farm Board is that it shall not be given away. Borah's idea was that a gift of the wheat to China would create an appetite for wheat bread among the 400,000,000 Chinese which would result in largely increasing the market for wheat in that country.

Well-To-Do Farmers

Toronto, Ont.—The well-to-do middle class farmer had by no means disappeared. Hon. Duncan Marshall, former Minister of Agriculture, Alberta, told a meeting of advertisers and salesmen here when discussing farming conditions in western Canada. He believed that present difficulties would be overcome by the farmers. Generous loans to farmers by bankers at low rates of interest were a necessity, however, he said.

Followed Nurse Cavell

Brussels, Belgium.—It was belatedly learned here that Miss Anne Scott-James, 56, who gained fame as a nurse in the Great War, died March 21. Miss Scott-James assumed the mantle of the English nurse, Edith Cavell, shot as a spy by the Germans during the war. Following Miss Cavell's execution, she assisted Allied soldiers to cross the Dutch frontier.

Will Epertalton Governor-General

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada's new Governor-General—the Earl of Bessborough—will be the guest of honor on April 8, at a dinner tendered by Premier R. B. Bennett. Members of the government, the leader of the opposition, and members of the privy council will attend the function.

Man Without a Country

Department Of Immigration Decides To Admit Radnaski To Canada

Ottawa, Ont.—John Radnaski, referred to as the man without a country, will be admitted to Canada, the Department of Immigration has decided. When he was stopped at the Detroit-Windsor border some weeks ago, his case excited considerable public comment because, not only did the United States refuse him entry, but so did Canada. The order permitting him to enter this country went forward recently.

Radnaski came to Canada in 1914. In 1923 he went to United States, where he married an American woman. They had two children, whom, after his wife's death, Radnaski sent to Canada to the home of his parents. It was when he sought to follow them back to this country that he was stopped by immigration authorities.

SIR JOSIAH STAMP APPOINTED HEAD OF GRAIN INQUIRY

Ottawa, Ont.—One of Britain's leading economic experts, Sir Josiah Stamp, was recently named as head of the royal commission to inquire into grain trading in Canada. Premier R. B. Bennett told members of the House of Commons that Sir Josiah will sail this week for Canada.

It was known that the British economist had been invited to represent the Dominion Government, but the recent announcement carried the first intimation that he had accepted the post. The royal commission is to consist of three members, one of whom will represent the Grain Elevators and another is to be chosen by the prairie provinces to represent the farmers.

Rumors have associated the name of Premier J. E. Bennett with the position of grain growers' representative, but Mr. Brownlee has denied that he would accept the post.

Sir Josiah Stamp has for many years been regarded as an outstanding expert in financial matters. He has had a distinguished academic career and has frequently represented the British Government on financial commissions. In 1919 he was member of the British royal commission on income tax, in 1924 he was member of the committee on taxes and national debt, and in the same year was British representative on the Dawes reparations commission. His most recent task has been to seek means of accomplishing economic co-ordination of British railways.

Appointment of the royal commission has followed expressions of opinion in Western Canada that trading in grain futures is detrimental to the best interests of the producers. Present indications are that work of the commission will be confined to an investigation of this subject, although it appears possible the scope of the inquiry may be extended to include whole questions of marketing of the wheat crop.

Less Unemployed

London, England.—The number of unemployed persons in Great Britain on March 18, was announced by the government recently, as 2,539,633, a decrease of 52,104 under the previous month. The total figure is 1,017,875, more than at the same time last year.

Express Train Leaves Track

One Life Lost and Fifteen Injured In Wreck Near Swift Current

Winnipeg, Man.—Swift travelling Canadian Pacific Railway passenger train No. 3, westbound, hit a broken rail near Swift Current, Sask., and five cars, including four sleepers, plunged from the rails, down a 15-foot embankment.

There was one fatality—a 67-year-old Cleveland man, Manning P. Fisher, who with his family was en route to Vancouver from where he was to have sailed for China on a holiday. His death was attributed to shock. He died shortly after the derailment. Mrs. Fisher and a 23-year-old son escaped injury.

Thirteen other passengers occupied of sleepers and two members of the dining car staff, were cut and bruised when thrown from their berths. All escaped serious injury.

Regina Winter Fair

Three Grand Champions and Reserve Champions Stallions Are Named

Regina, Sask.—Three grand champion stallions were named at the Regina Winter Fair. These were: Clydesdale, "Lochinvar," owned by John Falconer, of Govan, Sask.; Percherons, "Colmar," owned by C. M. Rees, of Regina, Sask.; Belgians, "Goliath," owned by C. M. Rees. The reserve championship in Clydesdale stallions went to H. Black, of Belle Plaine, with "Caradoc Footprint"; in Percherons, to C. M. Rees, with "Rainy River Charles"; and in Belgians, to R. Thomas, of Grandora, with "Paragon Bill."

R. Thomas was adjudged to have the best gelding in the show with a Clydesdale, winning over a Percheron, owned by H. Black.

No Samples Yet

Edmonton, Alberta.—"Not a single flake of platinum has been received yet for test purposes," declared J. A. Allan, head of the department of geology at the University of Alberta, when asked regarding reports of a strike at Obed, on the C.N.R., west of Edson.

MELODY MIKE FAN MAIL

From the far northern prairies, from city, town, village, isolated farm house, right across the Dominion from Halifax to Victoria, letters are pouring into Canadian Pacific Radio offices, at Montreal, from admirers of the genial old soul who sends out his message of goodwill and kindly humor every Monday night. In one day in March, no less than 1,361 such letters were received and from 15,000 in a month, the figure has risen to close on 40,000. Photograph shows a portion of the radio department staff dealing with this huge fan mail as it comes in each day. The Melody Mike feature is declared by competent judges to be one of the most popular radio offerings on the continent.

May Increase Postal Rates On Newspapers

To Help Lower Deficit Of Post Office Department

Ottawa, Ont.—Voicing a protest against the projected increase of postal charges on second class mail matter, a delegation of over 30 members of the Canadian National Newspapers and Periodicals Association conferred here with Hon. Arthur Sauve, postmaster-general.

The government has had before it for some time the proposal to increase the mail rates on second class mail matter, under which category are included newspapers and periodicals. For the current fiscal year the deficit of the post office department will likely range between five and six million dollars, and the proposal to raise the rate on newspapers has been advanced in an effort to overcome some of that deficit.

Would Repeal Dry Law

Illinois Senate Passes Bill Repealing Enforcement

Springfield, Ill.—The Illinois Senate recently passed the bill repealing the state's prohibition enforcement laws. The measure, already passed by the House, now goes to the governor. The vote was 26 to 24.

The bill would repeal the state prohibition law under the Search and Seizure Act. In effect, it would withdraw all state support from the Federal Government in fighting illicit manufacture and traffic in intoxicating liquor.

MANITOBA POOL ELEVATOR PROBE IS UNDER WAY

Winnipeg, Man.—Surrounded by prominent counsel, including T. J. Murray, K.C., authority on the legal aspects of elevator marketing, E. K. Williams, K.C., commenced a royal commission investigation into the operations of the Manitoba Pool Elevators Limited.

Procedure to be adopted in presentation of evidence has been settled. Commissioner Williams gave a compromise ruling which will permit Pool counsel to present documentary evidence, and, in special cases, evidence of company officers in explanation of financial reports submitted.

It had been the intention of Mr. Murray and his associate counsel, Travers Sweetman, K.C., to present oral testimony on each document submitted, but this was objected to by H. S. Hudson, K.C., representing James R. Murray, Winnipeg grain authority, whose charges made to Premier John Bracken brought about the appointment of the commissioner.

Under the compromise ruling, agreed to by all counsel, the Pool elevators will file documents, and opposing counsel will be permitted immediate cross-examination of witnesses. The same ruling will apply when witnesses for Mr. Murray testify on the filing of documentary evidence.

Mr. Murray, who charged extravagance in the operation of pool elevators, and under-grading to the detriment of the farmer shareholders, was in attendance at the sessions.

In the country there are 11,000 farmer shareholders, operating 156 country elevators, who are vitally interested in the probe, which is expected to last at least three weeks.

Both sides made clear that a "complete picture" of the pool elevators operations must be presented.

Mr. Murray, senior counsel for the pool, feared it was the intention of Mr. Hudson to call officers and employees of the elevators only to substantiate the charges, and not to bring out the complete facts relevant to the whole case.

A strong impression might be created with the examination of only one document or witness, said Mr. Murray. Incomplete examination might at least cause suspicion, and with keen rivalry existing between pool and non-pool elevator groups, lead to the circulation of propaganda calculated to break the confidence of shareholders.

"Confidence of shareholders is the life blood of the Pool Elevators, Limited," he said. "It must be maintained."

J. T. Thomas, K.C., associated with Mr. Hudson, declared it was not intended to create any unnecessary disturbance in the minds of shareholders. Everything must be presented in detail, not summaries, and not piecemeal.

MARKET BOARD FOR WHEAT IS RECOMMENDED

Winnipeg, Man.—Establishment of a permanent Canadian marketing board was urged in the Manitoba legislature by Hon. R. A. Hoey, minister of education. Answering criticism of wheat pool operations, Mr. Hoey contended that a permanent markets board would have a vital and direct relationship to the recovery of agriculture in the west.

He also proposed, in speaking on the second reading debate on ratification of government pool loan guarantees that quality production should be insisted on and that products should be standardized from coast to coast.

Cash payment to the banks for the government's guarantee of the Manitoba Wheat Pools' indebtedness was urged by W. Sanford Evans (Ind. Con.), Winnipeg. He advised the government to float a $3,200,000 bond issue and pay the banks in cash rather than to seek to carry the overdraft over a period of years.

Under such a plan, believed Mr. Evans, the pools would get a new start and would profit by their lessons of the past, altering the policy of speculating in futures, which, he contended, had been the pools' undoing. Most severe threat to the world market, at present, he commented, lay in the grain to be released from the United States following the farm board's decision to end its stabilization policy.

Mr. Hoey, minister of education, replied apologetically to Mr. Evans' statements, reviewing the formation of the pools and quoting Premier R. B. Bennett as saying, at Regina, that the pools had followed the wisest policy under the circumstances. In coming to the government for aid in adversity, said Mr. Hoey, farmers were doing only what had been done with extraordinary success by many other interests.

Tourist Traffic Slightly Less

But Figures For 1929 Place Value At $280,000,000

Ottawa, Ont.—Despite falling off from 1929 tourist traffic still remains a decidedly prolific source of income to Canada. Figures for 1929, estimated by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, place the value of tourist traffic at $280,000,000. This substantial figure, in the face of far-fung economic depression, was only $28,000,000 less than 1928.

Automobile tourists from the United States increased in numbers, but apparently did not spend as much money. The estimated expenditure was $202,469,000 as compared with $215,577,000 in 1928. The conclusion reached by the mathematicians at the Bureau of Statistics is that the relative cheapness of a motor trip through Canadian highways had appeal for those who in more prosperous times might have been inquisitive about the beauty of the country. Total tourists from the United States numbered 5,400,000 as against 4,508,000.

Canadian tourists abroad also were watching their pocketbooks. Automobiles carried tourists to the United States, who parted with $65,486,000, according to the estimate. This compared with $65,085,000 in the previous year. Total expenditures abroad of all Canadians is placed at $113,000,000 as against $122,000,000 in the year of booming stock quotations.

Temperance Forces Defeated

London, England.—Rallying after their recent defeat in attempting to introduce prohibition into Great Britain by act of Parliament, the temperance forces sought to curtail liquor advertising which flares over towns and country throughout the Isles, but the House of Commons rejected the move by a vote of 127 to 112.

No Aid For Germany

Paris, France.—Denunciation of the commercial treaty with Germany and a decision to abstain from all financial aid constitutes the possible policy of France toward Germany. The Parisists in carrying out an economic pact with Austria, the Associated Press was informed in official quarters.

Child Has Narrow Escape

Welland, Ont.—A 45 calibre bullet, fired up in the air by an unknown person, landed on the roof of a house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Floryan Oberly, pierced the bedroom ceiling and landed on the blanket of the baby's crib. The bullet missed the child by inches.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

An amusing broadcast was heard this week. A supposed old-timer was telling a "young-timer" that the country presented as many opportunities to young people to-day as it did fifty years ago. There are many who have the view that the day of opportunity has ended. It never will end as long as this world exists. It is up to the individual just as much to-day as ever. He succeeds or fails according to his own efforts.

But you have to be up betimes in the morning; your store or place of business must be open on time and persistent vigilance must be maintained if you are to secure business. Above all, you must interest yourself in something as well as business. You owe something to the community from which you earn a living.

It is the man whose mental horizon is bounded by the length of his nose who says there are no opportunities.

Small things that in a large city would pass unobserved assume importance in the eyes of people in a smaller community. Trifling incidents are magnified into prime importance, mainly because people will listen to and peddle gossip. If the same amount of time were spent in aiming at something higher than gossiping, everybody would be much happier and there would be a greater amount of goodwill.

Let a newspaper express an opinion which does not coincide with someone whose views are opposite, and immediately a weapon is used which is calculated to injure the newspaper. An instance of it we record this week. A party withdrew his advertising because he did not agree with a frankly expressed opinion of public interest appearing in last week's issue of The Journal.

Were people in turn to retaliate in the same manner, by withdrawing their support to his business, he would feel he had been hardly dealt with. The Journal expresses its opinions on public matters as a matter of principle, and not on personalities. It the criticism pricks someone under the skin, and it is viewed as a personal matter, then super-sensitive people should not hold public office. Policies, public business and school affairs are bigger than individuals, for they affect the whole community, and it is for the entire community that The Journal stands in its comment on these matters.

Intolerance and inconsistency are two traits which make people objectionable. Life between human beings consists largely of compromise. If one section tries to impose its will on the other, there is trouble immediately. There is no place for people with intolerant views in a country in which the democratic spirit rules. The man who sees no good in this or that or anything at all, certainly gets what he deserves from life, which is very little. Moreover, he is avoided by people with more reasonable views, who admit that the other fellow has some shadow of right on his side.

Were people to think and act alike, there would be no incentive to progress. Civilization would become decadent. Though some people's views may appear to hinder progress, possibly they serve a useful purpose. Fleas on a dog are a damned nuisance, but they keep him busy scratching. Negative arguments help to make positive arguments more virile.

Times of difficulty make many people nervous and ready to "fly off the handle" at the least provocation. There are others who meet their trials bravely without complaint, with a secret resolve that they will solve them without whining.

Much can be learned from Nature. Plant a seed in the soil and it fights its way through till it eventually blossoms forth to radiate color. How much more should man be able to force his way up through difficulty! This is the testing time for many. The brave and the cheerful will win.

With all our likes and dislikes, opinions and fancies, how little we really know of the great forces of Nature which work unceasingly. What man knows of the Universe and its laws is but a fragment of the causes which keep this old world whirling through space, and to tell the truth we are in proportion, individually and collectively, similar to the ants that burrow away and work diligently trying to achieve what to them is something wonderful. Human knowledge has progressed in modern times. To what stage it will have progressed a hundred years hence it would be impossible to foretell. In comparison we will appear to have known very little.

Here and There

More than thirty carloads of apples have been shipped recently to the Boston, New York and Chicago markets from Bathurst, N.B. The value of these shipments is placed at about $35,000.

An increased enrollment in both common and high schools, an increase in teachers and in average attendance were indicated in the report of the schools of New Brunswick for the year ending October 31, 1930.

Aggregate value of life insurance in Canada, according to latest available information, was $6,150,000,000 or about $628.48 per capita of the population. Its value has more than doubled in Canada since 1920.

Last year's catch of salmon in British Columbia totalled 216,000,000 pounds, the highest ever recorded. About 2,220,000 cases have been canned, most of it to be exported to different parts of the world.

Good progress was made in 1930 in civil aviation in Canada, particularly in commercial flying. A total of 87,453 hours was flown, an increase of 7,667 hours over the flying time of registered aeroplanes in 1929.

An advance of about $60,000 in net tonnage handled at the port of Vancouver during 1930 is shown in the annual report of the Vancouver Merchant Exchange. Tonnage in 1930 being 12,776,634 against 11,984,771 in 1929.

Latest reports on the output of the central electric stations in Canada state that in 1930 power generated from such stations totalled 17,828,121 thousands of kilowatt hours, an increase of 195,245 thousands of K.W. hours over 1929.

When the new 42,500-ton Empress of Britain, Canadian Pacific Atlantic flagship, goes on a world cruise, she will break at least 29 records. Except for Southampton and New York she will be the largest vessel ever to enter world cruise ports.

Prediction of a favorable year for the fruit growers of the Annapolis Valley is already being made for 1931. Dr. Blair, superintendent of the Government Experimental Farm, Kentville, N. S., announces there is every indication of an excellent crop adding that fruit buds had formed unusually well and were plentiful.

Statistics gathered from cities and towns having a population of 4,000 and over show that in 138 such centres with a total population of 3,359,703 the number of police officers employed was 5,004, or one officer to every 671 persons. As an instance of their efficiency it is reported that of the 11,160 automobiles stolen in the year 1929, all but 10 were recovered.

While industry and commerce are preparing their plants and methods for low-cost operation and quality service in the coming contest for home and export markets, our railway systems, a primary implement of these operations, are cramped in that respect by inability to accumulate reserves in fat years as did other corporations, according to resolutions adopted at the annual meeting of the Railway Business Association.

"More important than all the deliberations of the industry are the family councils on the performance of cars, the atmosphere of service stations and the courtesy of salesmen. Millions of daughters, mothers, sons and fathers are writing the future of the automotive business around the fireside—with no one there to plead the case of the manufacturer, car or dealer. And the verdicts are final." Motor Magazine.

The verdict, with relation to cars priced between $1290 and $2900, is clear-cut and conclusive: . . . More than fifty out of every one hundred buyers of eights in this field choose the Straight Eight by McLaughlin-Buick, while the remainder divide their purchases among 14 other makes. And eighty-eight per cent. of McLaughlin-Buick owners—almost nine out of ten—return to buy McLaughlin-Buicks again and again.

Owing to their popularity the present models of 1931 McLaughlin-Buick Straight Eights will be continued throughout the coming summer and fall.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Hon. Maurice Dupre, solicitor-general for Canada, has been made a Dominion King's Counsel, according to the Canada Gazette.

The Pacific Great Eastern Railway in 1930 absorbed a loss of more than $81,000 in its operating revenues, according to a report presented to the British Columbia legislature by Premier S. F. Tolson.

Notice of a resolution calling upon the government to bring in the eight hour day throughout Canada has been placed on the order paper of the House of Commons by Hon. Peter Heenan, former Minister of Labor.

Charles Vinny Hillwell, soldier under General Wolsey in the first Red River expedition in 1870, is dead, aged 84 years. The veteran soldier also participated in the Fenian Raids in 1871.

The Old Clover Point Rifle Range, a three-quarter mile strip of sea frontage, has been leased to the city of Victoria for park purposes by the federal department of national defence.

Less economy and more spending were suggested by Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, Foreign Secretary, at a luncheon in Hull, England, as the best methods for reviving trade and industry. He declared the world was suffering from "too much economy."

Mahatma Gandhi has refused to allow his admirers to immortalize him in stone. He said money which might be spent in such a statue could far more appropriately be devoted to "ameliorating the deplorable condition of the poor."

More than 835,000 automobile accidents occurred in the United States last year, and they killed 32,000 persons, and injured 872,000, the Travelers' Insurance Company reports. Deaths increased 45 per cent. over 1928.

A report upon the ice cream industry in Canada for 1929 shows that during thirteen years the production of this commodity has increased by 179 per cent. and its value by 232 per cent., the amount in 1929 being 9,797,436 gallons, and the value $138,604,708.

Acquire Velocity Quickly

Bodies Falling Through Air Move At Rapid Rate

Experiments have proved that the rate per second at which bodies acquire velocity in falling through the air is thirty-two feet. If a ball be allowed to fall from a tower, it is moving at the rate of thirty-two feet per second at the end of the first second after it has dropped from the hand; at the end of the next second with a velocity of sixty-four feet, and at the end of the third second at the rate of ninety-six feet per second.

Many can testify as to its power in allaying pain, and many more can certify that they owe their health to it. Its wonderful power is expressed by the small price at which it sells.

Freight By Air

Freight by air is becoming an important factor of aviation in England. Nearly 2,000 tons of bulky articles were carried from Croydon aerodrome last year. These ranged from a lion in a cage to a consignment of several hundred pounds of gold.

Football In Schools

Campaign Started To Organize School Teams Throughout Saskatchewan

(NOTE.—This is a copy of a report submitted by J. J. Anierley, to the President and Executive of the Saskatchewan Football Association, with a request, to that body to apply to the Saskatchewan Athletic Commission for a substantial grant from the Provincial Government for inclusion in the next Budget. This will require immediate attention.)

Organize all towns, villages and hamlets as potential centres of development along the existing lines of the C.P.R. and C.N.R. in Saskatchewan.

Competitions: (a) Public Schools; (b) High Schools.

The game of football (commonly called soccer), is a typical British game, but is internationally played and is included in the list of competitions in the Olympic Games. It is the only game in all the provinces varying stages of success as measured in terms of teams playing. British Columbia is the best example of what can be done by thorough organization in the schools, there being a number of over 1,000 school teams in that province, exceeding the total for the rest of the Dominion.

Since the game has been played under the supervision of the Senior (adults) in many parts of the province of Saskatchewan, within the last few years, the game has been played in many places so that although there is an unfortunate lack of co-ordination, there is nevertheless, a very valuable nucleus of older and experienced players from the older provinces, the British Isles to work on if means can be found to connect up and develop the game. There is no question that for popularizing a game, the league system has been the most effective, the added spirit of an organized competition giving a greater interest in the game, and the matches which is a great incentive to the gaining of public support.

Winnipeg, football in all the public schools, has been played under the supervision of the school board officials; Regina, one Junior League, 6 teams; Prince Albert, four leagues, 30 teams; Calgary, two leagues, 8 teams; and thirty other schools in different cities, all under the supervision of the school authorities.

British Columbia has 1,054 teams with an average of fifteen players each, operating in junior and school leagues. In Vancouver a great interest is being taken in the public schools and steps are being taken during the coming season to get all the schools in the game.

To return to Saskatchewan and the programme of development for the 1931 season. Almost every town and village has its sports ground, and there need be no difficulty in fitting the game of soccer so as not to clash with any other sports and games enjoyed in the community.

A special appeal through the sporting columns of the Press and by circulars should be made to all principals and assistant masters to foster the game of soccer in the interest of amateur sport emphasizing the teamwork required to attain efficiency and the resultant benefit to the school team and individuals, physically and morally.

In towns and village schools there may be a sufficient enrolment of boys to make up two or more teams. These in turn could organize with two or more neighboring schools to form a school league. A midweek league for grades up to 7, and (b) a junior league for all grades over 7, would be a great mistake to lay down too hard and fast rules in the initial stages of the organization as every district league would have to solve its own problems, and in the event of any out of town, rural schools desiring to join, a committee would need to be so elastic as to permit of two or more rural schools entering as a composite school team. This qualification is necessary to take care of instances where the register of boys of playing age is below the required number. This is commonly the case.

Challenge shields can be purchased for the moderate sum of $25.00 or less at well known houses, and medals suitably engraved for presentation to the members of winning teams can be purchased for a trifling figure. Such would be a great incentive to the boys, and the trophy a source of pride to the school entering the successful team.

In a competition of this nature, even in these difficult times, it should not be hard to raise the small amount locally to purchase the local trophy. If the local leagues programme as outlined can be developed it would be come advisable, later, to create a unit of large size, so as to arrange the province into conveniently sized areas with the end in view of staging a provincial-wide "knock-out" cup competition.

It is here suggested that a school inspectorate across be the basis of these units. It may be stated here that it would be hard to find a keener body of sportsmen, in the best sense of the word, than our school inspectors, and a special effort should be made to enlist their active service in developing amateur sport along these lines. If this can be brought about it should be possible to arrange for the semi-finals and final of the competition to be fought out at the provincial finals before a vast.

In closing on this subject it must be borne in mind that any programme of rural games must be run off between seed-time and harvest, i.e. May 15 to August 15, as after the latter date most boys are engaged in the harvesting of the crop until freeze-up.

To obtain a suitable trophy for the provincial schools football competition, an appeal could be made to some public spirited citizen and as regards obtaining funds to operate the campaign an appeal should be made to the Saskatchewan Athletic Commission, the Dominion Football Association, and the Football Association in Great Britain.

To wage a successful and continuous campaign the writer is of the opinion a sum of five thousand dollars would be required.

In furtherance of the scheme outlined, and following closely on the Press campaign, active organizers—old footballers with ability as demonstrators in words and footwork—should be engaged to follow up on the towns and villages as described.

The Saskatchewan Football Association is desirous of expressing its appreciation of the assistance rendered by the Department of Education in supplying a large scale map of Saskatchewan with all its Incorporated Areas outlined thereon.

Since outlining the campaign it has become apparent that owing to the existing financial stringency it will be impossible to obtain any grants from the Government during the current year.

It is hoped, however, that wherever possible local efforts will be made to organize school teams and leagues. Wherever this is done please notify the writer of this article, and an effort will be made later to pick up and co-ordinate these efforts. It is recognized that so soon as a nucleus of school teams and league has been formed that a subsidiary School Football Association will be necessary to further the particular interests of the game in the schools of the province.

Local leagues in course of formation may obtain on application a set of rules covering the game, also one rule book issued by the S. F. A. for the sum of 50c. from O. J. Hopkins, Anierley P.O., Sask.

Canada's Poultry Industry

Phase Of Agricultural Activity That Is Rapidly Expanding

Canada's poultry industry is one of the phases of agricultural activity which is forging steadily ahead. The poultry population of hens and chickens for 1930, numbered 56,247,000. This represents an increase of one million birds over 1929, and is a marked contrast with the total of 12,696,701 of 1891. Present indications are that Canada's poultry population for the present year will be practically five times what it was forty years ago.

To have the children sound and healthy is the first care of a mother. Liberal time at many places visited will permit not only of an unusually comprehensive programme of shore excursions without extra cost, but also a number of inland trips for those who wish to amplify or extend their visit, and will appeal greatly to the many Canadians who will be making the cruise.

Native Criticism

In the report just issued by the August U. K. Trade Mission to South Africa appear the following example of native criticism received, by a manufacturer: "Dear Sir—Why you no send handle with pump just received? My customers holler like hades for water. Yours truly, P.S."

On looking again into the box I find the handle."

SMART JUMPER DRESS
Today's cute dress style is quite individual.

The tiny French bodice is designed with open "V" at the front and at the back. A skirt is comfortably full to allow sufficient freedom that small folk need for playtime. Folded to the yoked bodice in soft gathered treatment gives a very dainty effect.

The guimpe is fetching with Peter Pan collar and turn-back sleeve cuffs. When the warm weather arrives, the little guimpe may be discarded.

This sturdy bloomer dress in baby blue and white gingham check uses white batiste for the guimpe.

Style No. 211 is designed for tots of 2 1/2 and 6 years.

Dainty prints, cotton broadcloth, linen, pique, percales and cool dressy make up nicely and are practical as well.

Mid-Summer Cruise

All Europe Cruise Of The Cunarder "Lancastria" Offers Wonderful Opportunity

An important and unusually interesting mid-summer cruise to all Europe, sailing in the Cunarder "Lancastria" from New York on June 30th next, has just been announced by the Cunard Line, and Frank Tourist Company, joint sponsors of this new cruise.

The itinerary of the "All Europe" cruise reaches from the sunny shores of the Mediterranean to the beautiful Sogne Fjord, in far Norway, at its best and most beautiful at that time of the year.

Every country in western Europe with the exception of landlocked Switzerland will be visited by the "Lancastria" in the 51-days of her "All Europe" cruise. Among the striking points in the plans for this cruise are included an excursion to Rome at no extra cost, a trip on the big Cunarder through the Kiel Canal which presents magnificent scenery on every hand, and a call at Copenhagen, the attractive and sophisticated capital of Denmark.

Liberal time at many places visited will permit not only of an unusually comprehensive programme of shore excursions without extra cost, but also a number of inland trips for those who wish to amplify or extend their visit, and will appeal greatly to the many Canadians who will be making the cruise.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

APRIL 5
EASTER LESSON:
THE RESURRECTION

Golden Text: "Now hath Christ been raised from unto dead, the first fruits of them that are asleep." 1 Corinthians 15:20.

Lesson: 1 Corinthians 15:1-8, 50-58.

Explanations and Comments

The Resurrection Of Christ The Most Vital Of All the Doctrines of the Christian Faith, verses 1-4.—Paul reminds his readers, the Corinthians, of his teaching during the good news, which they heard from him, on which their faith was grounded, by which they were saved, that is, "in the way of salvation, by faith in the crucified and risen Saviour," if they held fast to the word as he had declared it unto them, and had not believed in vain, "without consideration, and so without stability." "Unless, indeed, your faith was all haphazard," is Moffatt's translation. Paul's sentences are usually very inviolable, the most four verses from one sentence. First of all, as the most important of all the good tidings which I declared unto them, he writes, I told you that which I also had learned (probably from Peter and James, on his visit to Jerusalem recorded in Acts 9:27, 28), that Christ died to atone for our sins, in fulfillment of the Scriptures; that He was buried and was raised on the third day.

"O vanquished grave of Jesus whose death could work no change upon His heart!" O deep, deep grave of Jesus whose depths can hide a whole world of sin! O glorious grave of Jesus through whose gloom lies the pathway to immortal life.

—Ralph Connor.

The Evidence For the Resurrection, verses 5-8.—Here follows the oldest account of the appearances of the risen Christ. He appeared to Peter; then to the Twelve (Paul keeps the symbolic number, though Judas was dead and Thomas was not present at the first appearance); then to more than five hundred at once (probably on the mountains in Galilee, Matthew 28:16, 17), the greater number of whom are still alive—and you can have their direct testimony, if you wish, is the inference—but none are fallen asleep—twenty-five years, at least, had passed since the resurrection of Christ; then He appeared to James (the brother of Jesus, Acts 15:13; Galatians 1:19); then last of all, as to a child untold number of brethren, He appeared to Paul also (Acts 9).

The Resurrection Of the Dead, verses 9-12.—Human nature in its possession of flesh and blood cannot take possession of the Kingdom of God; nor does corruption take possession of incorruption. The argument is that such a spiritual body as has been speaking of is absolutely necessary in the Kingdom of God. Behold, I tell you a mystery: some will be living at the last trump (1 Thessalonians 4:16; Matthew 24:31; Revelation 11:5), when Christ shall come again, and they will be changed in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet-call; and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. Paul hoped for the return of Christ during his own lifetime.

When this has taken place, when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, when the glorious body is received, then will the resurrection triumph over sin and death, they shall be like Him, who has been raised from the dead, the first fruits of them that are asleep.

When this has taken place, when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, when the glorious body is received, then will the resurrection triumph over sin and death, they shall be like Him, who has been raised from the dead, the first fruits of them that are asleep.

The Best Of Luck

American Soldier Receives Fortune From Father Of Frenchman He Befriended

The best of luck which soldiers used often to wish one another in the Great War, has befallen one of them who helped another when his luck was out. The luckless one was a French poilu who had been severely wounded in the last great move in 1918. An American doctor brought him out of danger, bandaged him, exchanged cards with him, and wished him the best of luck. The American boy never expected to hear from him again. But he has just received a letter from Paris to say that the young Frenchman's father has left him $60,000 in his will. One American, at any rate, had the best of luck in the war.

SELECTED RECIPES

PARKER HOUSE ROLLS
2 cups scaled milk.
1 tablespoon salt.
1 yeast cake.
4 tablespoons "Mazola."
2 tablespoons sugar.
3/4 cup warm water.

Scald milk and when cool add yeast dissolved in warm water. Stir in milk, "Mazola," salt and sugar. Add three cups bread flour and beat well, then let rise in a warm place until doubled in bulk. Cut down and add three more cups of flour. Knead until dough no longer sticks to fingers. Then let rise again until doubled in bulk. Roll over and cut with round cutter. Brush over with "Mazola" and fold over. Bake in oiled pan in quick oven.

A New Stainless Steel
Stainless steel as used for cutlery is difficult to work and cannot be used for making other domestic articles. Now, it is said, another form of stainless steel has been discovered which can be used in the place of brass, copper, and chromium-plated metals for such articles as bathroom and door fittings.

She stooped, motherly, dropping a kiss on Martha's flaxen head.

"Thank you," said Mr. Halliday, wearily. "Thank you for that, and everything."

Then he, too, stooped above the child.

"I'm going to leave you here to play with Nick and Genny, little girl. I'll come back soon."

She lifted a tear-stained face and would have clung to him had not Gay called her attention to the tower the boys were building.

"I'll show you how, little Martha," said Sonya with importance. "I'll make a house 'most big enough for you to live in."

"Go now," Gay whispered, seeing that the child was occupied; and Halliday turned away.

He went straight to Angela's room. She stood almost where he had left her, and, closing the door, he faced her sternly.

"Angela," he began, "there are guests in the house, and I cannot say what I would say otherwise. There must be no scene; but once before I warned you to curb your temper. Do you remember why?"

She shrank from him, but he felt that they're not exactly our sort—a bit blasé and world-weary perhaps, though the woman had not been in travel when she told me about her little girl. They must be here Halliday to drink. He may be a cynic, but he has brains in his head. Still, I think you're unjust to the fair Angela. I bet those things Julie told you have stuck in your crop, Gay. I think you've made an impression on Halliday. He acted tremendously interested in you tonight."

"What an idiotic thing to say!" "If you're not careful, Madam," Nick retorted. "I shall sue you for slander. That's the second insult you've handed me in fifteen minutes. Besides, he'd have been the idiotic one if he hadn't noticed you. You had those other women looking like tin in a jewelry shop."

A sudden smile lighted Gay's eyes. She said: "That's what I meant about the difference in your voice and Mrs. Halliday's."

"I don't quite—get you."

"I said you wouldn't, didn't I?" Nick grinned.

"I believe you set that trap for me, my dear. But you'll have to admit that her voice is beautiful!"

"Oh, I do! But unless there's a beautiful soul behind it—"

Gay paused again, and her husband said with a tender smile for her face: "Are you implying then, that my soul is superior to my neighbors'?"

"Yes," answered Gay seriously. "I am. Oh, Nick, I know you'll think me silly, but I do wish you'd be care-lowed her relentlessly, and though she tried to look away the cold gleam of his gray eyes held her own while one might have counted ten. Then through the open window was wafted the sound of childish laughter—the tension of those clashing glances broke, and the woman regained her poise.

"Aren't you a trifle melodramatic, my dear husband?" she asked, shrugging. "After all, it was only a cat."

Halliday turned.

"Next time it may be a child," he replied sternly, and left the room.

CHAPTER XIV.

Angela's guests stayed but a short time, though, little Martha once disposed of, James Halliday tried his utmost to be agreeable, and make them forget the awkward moment of their arrival. He even suggested a small dinner to which their next door neighbors were invited, and at which Gay appeared in a charming sea-green gown that caused her hostess to stare almost rudely in surprise.

Angela thought she had taken Gay's measure when she described her as "that dowdy little thing next door." Now, watching Halliday's interested face as he talked with their surprisingly appeared guest, she wondered if by any chance she had been mistaken. Since the days of her own courtship she had never seen her husband treat a woman just that way.

The night piqued her—not because she had any romantic feeling left for Halliday, but because she had thought him incapable of being so interested.

There might come a time, she thought vindictively, when the knowledge of that interest would be a deadly weapon in her own hand. The thought brightened her eyes, making them even more blue and luminous than before. Her husband saw it, and wondered wearily, what new trouble she was brewing for herself; yet later, when in the cool of the dimly lighted living-room, Angela sang, her voice might have been part of some celestial choir.

"How gloriously that woman sings!" said Nick, when he and Gay made their way home together across the garden. "She seems to forget everything, and everybody, and give herself up to the expression of her own self. It's as if it were all her own music, and she were pouring it by way of giving them life. I felt like a fool when she made me try that fool when she, my dear."

"You needn't have. Your voice isn't trained like hers, but at least it's sincere."

"Sincere? What do you mean?" Gay drew a quick breath.

"You—you wouldn't understand if I told you. But I'm sorry I said anything if you've misunderstood me."

"Why not? Am I really so dense as that?"

"Not in everything, Nick."

"Thanks," Nick laughed, and as they reached the porch, sat down to the hammock and drew her down beside him. "Let's stay here a while and enjoy the moonlight. I don't like those aspersions on my mentality. Why should my singing be more sincere than Mrs. Halliday's?"

Gay was thoughtful for a moment before she answered: "I can't help feeling that she's playing a part, Nick; and somehow I don't care for her friends."

"They're not exactly our sort—a bit blasé and world-weary perhaps, though the woman had not been in travel when she told me about her little girl. They must be here Halliday to drink. He may be a cynic, but he has brains in his head. Still, I think you're unjust to the fair Angela. I bet those things Julie told you have stuck in your crop, Gay. INDIGESTION Banished by Kruschen

"I suffered for some years from a bad stomach. I used to feel very miserable after meals. The doctor advised me to take Epsom Salts, but it did me no good. I decided to try Kruschen and am now taking it, and have done so for the past 12 months, and I am very glad to tell you that my stomach is now in perfect order. I feel as young in spirit as I was 20 years ago, thanks to Kruschen." (W.B.) You know how badly an engine runs when it gets clogged up. It's the same with your body when your gastric or digestive juices fail to flow. What you need is a tonic—Nature's own tonic—Nature's six mineral salts.

You get all these six salts in Kruschen. The first effect of these salts is to promote the flow of the saliva and so awaken the appetite. The next action occurs in the stomach, where the digestive juices are encouraged to pour out and act upon the food. Again, in the intestinal tract, certain of these salts promote a further flow of the vital juices, and deal with partly digested food and prepare it finally for absorption into the system.

FREE TRIAL OFFER On our expert advice, Kruschen is now at your expense. We have distributed a great quantity of our "Giant" 75c package. It can be yours to prove our claim for yourself. Ask your druggist for the new "Giant" 75c package.

One of our regular 75c, both together with a separate trial bottle—sufficient for about one week. On the trial bottle first, put it to the test, and then, if not entirely convinced that Kruschen does everything we claim it does, return your 75c immediately and without question. ful how you act with Mrs. Halliday. I don't trust her. Call it jealousy if you like, but it's not that; it's instinct. There's I wish I had said it, though it's been on the end of my tongue for months. I knew you'd laugh."

"I'm not laughing," he protested, though he was shamelessly and obviously amused. "My mouth just naturally turns up at the corner! But, as I've said before, I don't think you do the woman justice. If she's not bappy with Halliday (and honestly, I don't think she is), she'd naturally take more interest in other men than would a woman who was so content with her own. Don't you believe that, Gay?"

"Perhaps—but but—there's such a thing as legitimate prey, you know," Nick did laugh now.

"I see. Well—"

"Oh, no you don't!" broke in Gay hurriedly. "You don't see at all. I suppose I'm bored. Perhaps I am, because I can't stop with you as she can. I've always wished that I could sing. But I'm sorry I said anything if you've misunderstood me."

Her voice trembled, and Nick drew her suddenly close.

"Sometimes, dear old girl, you're just plain foolish. What's a voice compared with the thing that makes you take off your shoes and stockings and go wading with a fellow? I don't say I'd want to wade every minute, or that I don't like to see your feet in those smart new pumps you're wearing; but neither could we go through life eternally bellowing duets. That's right—laugh! If anyone's been idiotic it's the lady in my arms. Won't she admit it?"

"I suppose I am; but somehow, when I watched you tonight and saw how—how terribly attractive you are—"

"Have you just found it out?" Nick arose, laughing, and lifted her with him. "In any case don't let it worry you, because you're the only woman of my acquaintance who's sufficiently astute to discover the pleasing fact. That's a corking moon, my dear. I could sit here all night; but as the sober father of a family that's liable to wake early, I prescribe a few hours of sleep. Let's go up."

It was next morning that Angela's guests departed. Halliday, in an endeavour to appease his wife for what he knew she considered his unpardon-able conduct in using her room for little Martha, accompanied them to the station; checked their trunks; and was the genuinely thoughtful host to the last minute. When the train pulled out he walked in silence to the automobile, and waited Angela to the place beside him.

Claim Is Disputed

Gray's Elegy Not Written At Stokes Poges Is Belief

The churchyard of Stokes Poges, in Buckinghamshire, England, is generally supposed to have been the scene which inspired Gray's famous "Elegy," but the claim was disputed last year in a book published by the Clarendon Press, and written by Mr. Francis Stokes, who held that Thaxington, about a mile from Canterbury Cathedral, in Kent, England, stands apart from other claimants as being the only locality, on behalf of which direct evidence can be produced. Rev. Gordon Wilson, rector of Thaxington, and mayor of Canterbury, writes in the "Guardian," that Mr. Stokes was quite correct. He says that Gray took much interest in Bentley's illustrations of the poems in 1753, and asks: Is it not strange that only the ruins of an ancient abbey are shown, such as St. Augustine's Abbey, Canterbury, could show, but nothing at all like the Stoke church? No curfew was ever heard across Stokes Poges churchyard, but the curfew has rung nightly for many centuries from Bell Harry Tower, Canterbury Cathedral, over the meadows to Thaxington, a mile away.

Worth Of a Good Rain

Is Many Millions Dollars If It Comes In Right Season
What is a good rain worth? Computing on the basis of average prices for the past 10 years of North Dakota crops, J. B. Kincer, weather man of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, says one good rain not been from May to August has not been a "million dollar" rain, but a 17 million dollar rain.

Using the rainfall records from May to July, he found that the average of rainfall in North Dakota produces about six million bushels of oats, nearly three million bushels of barley, nearly one million bushels of potatoes, more than a half million bushels of flaxseed, about nine million bushels of wheat and more than 125 thousand tons of hay, to say nothing of truck garden and other crops.

As Scotland Does It

The manager of an Aberdeen firm called his bookkeeper into his private room.

"Sandy," he said, "the accountant is leaving and I'm gawn (a) gie you his job."

The young bookkeeper's face lit up with expectation.

"Thank you, sir," he replied. "And what will the salary be now?"

The manager shook his head.

"The same as you're gettin', but ye'll have a hat-peg to yourself now," he returned.

Caller: Pardon me, sir, but is there another artist in this building?" Artist: There is not. There is, however, a man on the fourth floor who paints!"

The reason the minister's daughter has so many boy friends is because her father gives out the hints. A man seldom meets another man who is smarter than himself.

La Grippe and "Flu" are Spreading

"Flu" First Appears as a Sore Throat, but Gains Tremendous Headway in Six Hours

AN EFFECTIVE TREATMENT DESCRIBED

Nearly every case of "Flu" starts with a simple cold. At first the throat is sore—often just a little hoarse—soon the infection goes lower—then the chest is affected. A safe plan is to gargle the throat three times daily with "Nerviline"—this will keep the throat free from germs. If there is any sign of tightness in the chest, rub on Nerviline—every drop penetrates deeply—congestion will be relieved—the cold will break up quickly. Many a dangerous case of "Flu" can be avoided by this simple home treatment.

Experienced mothers know how valuable Nerviline is for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, and the little ailments that arise in every family. Nerviline in most homes is called "Mother's Best Friend." 35c at all dealers.

Cruise Around the World

Literary Of Cunard Liner "Franconia" Is Announced

The tentative literary for the Cunard liner "Franconia" cruise around the World in 1932, has just been made public in a statement by Arthur Randles, general passenger traffic manager of the Cunard Line of Canada, reveals a list of ports of call of striking diversity and attractiveness from the world cruise standpoint.

The fact that the "Franconia" is large enough for comfort at sea and yet not too large to enter most of the smaller harbours of the world opens a great many ports to her passengers which they would not be able to see were she larger. At the principal ports the "Franconia" is able to tie up to the docks, obviating the necessity of long and tedious rides in tenders from ship to shore.

Perhaps the most important new feature of the next year's cruise of the "Franconia" around the World will be an added port of call at Haifa, with more than three days allowed for her passengers to see the many historic and sacred places in Palestine. The call at Haifa will again be an included feature of the "Franconia" cruise, with stops at both Huleleng and Telok Padang planned for the 1932 cruise.

Other outstanding features of the "Franconia" cruise will be calls at Athens, Cap S. Jacques (for visits to Saigon and French Indo-China), Fukam (for Bangkok), Macassar in the Celebes, and Chinwangtao (for Peking).

Relieves Asthma At Once. If you could read the thousands of unsolicited letters received by the makers from grateful users you, too, would realize the remarkable powers of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. All cases, incipient and chronic, are benefited by this great family remedy. Why suffer or experiment with worthless preparations when the genuine Kellogg's can be purchased every where.

The Levelling Process

There are 150,000 fewer farms in the United States today, than there were in 1920. There are more of us each year who want to eat and fewer of us to provide the eatables. If this thing keeps on, such few farmers as retain their independent calling will be fully reconverted for the centuries in which a few "farmers" as "farmers" was a term of derision in the mouth of the city-dweller. Just another levelling process.

An old Roman inscription, lately deciphered, is a will in which money was left for the support of one hundred orphan girls.

Little Helps For This Week

"Tribulation worketh patience, and patience experience, and experience hope."—Romans v. 3, 4.

Is the road very dreary? Patience yet! Rest will be sweeter if thou art weary.

And after night cometh the morning cheer.

Just blue we and dinna fret! Don't forget! And though He's hidden, still the sun is shining.

Courage instead of tears and vain repining. Just blue a wee and dinna fret! "Be patient," said a Scotchman, reprovingly, to his little son.

"What is to be patient, father?" inquired the child.

"Bide a wee and dinna weary," replied the father, with a loving pressure on his shoulder.

How often God's restless children do not wait, and how often they do weary in waiting! Yet He is greatly honored by the trustful spirit, that patiently resigns the unfolding of His inscrutable purposes into His hands; for we know that a meek and quiet spirit is in the sight of God, of great price.—Amos. Shipman.

Perfection Is Scarce

Artists Frequently Use Many Models To Produce Results

Many admirers of magazine covers often wonder how the artists secure such wonderful and perfect models to pose for their work and little do the public know the work required to turn out a beautiful subject. In one of artist Thrasher's famous cover designs it required six different girls to pose for the one girl displayed on the cover. He used one for the perfect arms—another for the perfect limbs—one for the perfect hair—one for the perfect eyes—one for the nose—and another for all around beauty—so too many cooks in this case do not spoil the broth.

Canadian-Made Souffles

The habit of taking snuff is not declining in Canada; in fact it is on the increase. In 1929 over 997,000 pounds were made, valued at $12,800,933, an increase of over 337,000 pounds in weight, and more than $530,000 in value compared with 1919. Canadian-made snuff is used for domestic consumption as it is not mentioned in the exports.

Before Her Baby Came

"I have used several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and find it helps me wonderfully, especially before childbirth. I have five lovely children. After my last baby came I had a miserable pain in my right side so I bought another bottle of the Compound and I feel fine now. I work outside during the fruit season in addition to my housework."—Mrs. Charles Slingerland, R.R. #4, St. Catharines, Ontario.

CORN'S LIFT OFF

Pain Stops!

An amazing remedy—acts in a few seconds and causes no pain. The corn shrivels up and loosens. Another application or two and the corn drops out. Wonderfully—yes it is—but that is just how Putnam's Corn Extractor works. You can buy Putnam's Corn Extractor from any druggist for 35c.

PUTNAM'S

SOUR STOMACH

JUST a tasteless dose of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in water. That is all, effective, yet harmless. It has been the standard anti-acid for 50 years among physicians everywhere. One spoonful will neutralize at once many times its volume in acid. It is the right way, the quick, pleasant and efficient way to kill the excess acid. The stomach becomes sweet, the pain departs. You are happy again in five minutes. Don't depend on crude methods.

Employ the best way yet evolved in all the years of searching. That is the best way. In fact it is on the increase. In 1929 over 997,000 pounds were made, valued at $12,800,933, an increase of over 337,000 pounds in weight, and more than $530,000 in value compared with 1919. Canadian-made snuff is used for domestic consumption as it is not mentioned in the exports.

Remember—the genuine is always in liquid form. It cannot be made in tablet form. Look for the name Phillips. It is always on the wrapper for your protection. Druggists everywhere have the 50c bottles. (Made in Canada)
